SOME WEATHER

The one topic of conversation that has been absorbing the attention of most every one the past month and so far this month, has been the weather. Not that one has enjoyed discussing it but that it has been thrust upon our attention from its unusualness.

Twenty days of rain out of thirty for one month is some weather. Now July has started in and it would seem as if it were to beat that record for up to Thursday there had not been one entire pleasant day to the credit of July.

All the gardens have suffered from the downpours and many of the fruits that have come to maturity have been ruined. One fruit especially is the cherry. We have heard of one man who usually made a profit of seventy-five dollars on his cherries. When he came to pick them he found they were ruined for the market and the boys hired to do the picking were told to pick for their own consumption in order to rid the trees of the fruit.

The strawberries were practically ruined. Even those that had not ripened, rotted on the vines. The hay crop in Vermont has been ruined, so it is reported, while reports from the south say that one fourth of the melon crop has been spoiled and that of the cotton is in danger.

There does not seem to be any explanation coming from the Weather Bureau man as to the cause of this unusual amount of rainfall. Neither can he tell us whether it is to continue. For the sake of business, health and happiness, every one will hope that the sun will be permitted to shine so that the world (for reports come from across the water that there has been an unusual amount of rain) will soon assume its normal condition.

Those thousands and thousands of teachers who have come to visit New England have indeed had a wet welcome. We should so like to have them see us at our best, but the old-time saying is only too true, "Man proposes and God disposes."

Those Sunshine bags sent out by the Arlington District Nursing Association are suffering. If the rain continues to be with us we would suggest to the association that they change their plan for the little yellow bags and make it a penny for every rainy day. Just think they would have had twenty-five pennies in each bag for the past thirty days.

THE PETITION AGAINST USING THE TAPPAN FARM FOR THE STORAGE OF CARS BEING READILY SIGNED

The work of securing signatures to a petition in opposition to the using of the Tappan farm by the Boston Elevated for the storage of cars, which has been undertaken by the Arlington Board of Trade, under the direction of Mr. William F. Keleher, is progressing most satisfactorily. Mr. Keleher has given the petitions into the hands of the chairman of each of the several precincts in the town for them to secure the signature of residents in their precinct.

With but a few exceptions the people approached have been more than ready and willing to sign and the work is going steadily forward.

The gentlemen in charge of the petitions are as follows:—Precinct One, Mr. William A. Muller; Precinct Two, William I. Marsters; Precinct Three, Hollis M. Gott; Precinct Four and Six, Mr. William F. Keleher; Precinct Five, Willis P. Howard; Precinct Seven, Alfred DeNoyer. If there are any persons who have been overlooked in the several precincts who may care to sign, any one of these gentlemen will be glad to receive a call from the would-be signer, who will see to it that they have an opportunity to affix their name to the petition.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

Arlington Selectmen met in official session on July 1, with the usual routine affairs to be considered as well as several items of new business.

The Building Inspector made a report showing a recent falling off in the issue of permits for erection of new buildings, but the record of the year up to date shows the largest number of new building in the history of the town. It really has the dimensions of a boom.

The Board has decided to tax licenses of taxes and stabilize charges.

The School Committee gave notice that it would at the proper time file petition for a special town meeting early in September to consider the increasing demand for additional school accommodation.

An order was issued to the police department to dispose of unlicensed dogs. A notice to this effect will be found in advertising columns.

The Board is in receipt of a letter from the State Conservation Board considering favorably the request previously filed that Spy Pond be stocked with the game fish suited to such a body of water. It is probable that at a no distant date, this will be done. If so, the laws and regulations of the State Board will be strictly enforced. There is good reason to believe that this stocking of the pond will materially affect favorably the ridding of the water of much that is at times not agreeable.

An order has been given that printed notices placed on telegraph poles or other conspicuous places shall be removed by the police immediately succeeding the date of the event advertised.

CHARLES COLLINS WINS ANOTHER TROPHY

Charles Collins, one of this year's graduates from the High school, who distinguished himself in athletics during his school career, won another trophy on Tuesday, in the mile race in the City of Boston games on Boston Common. He was awarded a handsome gold medal for his trophy. He beat out Elmer E. Sanborn of M. I. T., one of the crack runners of the college. It was a spurt at the finish that put Collins over the line the winner.

ARLINGTON'S FOURTH OF JULY

Arlington's Fourth of July can well go down in history as the quietest in the history of the town. With the exception of the ringing of church bells, morning, noon and in the evening, there was no sign of celebration here. Just why this town cannot have some sort of celebration to mark the holiday is a mystery. All around us there were celebrations, band concerts and the like. Chief of Police Urquhart had all his men on duty throughout the night but there was nothing for them to do.

Just after four on Tuesday morning an alarm came in from Box 46 for a fire in a barrel of rubbish under the Brattle street bridge. This was set by a gang of boys. There were no false alarms sent in either the night before or on the holiday. The rain made it impossible to hold any sports such as baseball. In years gone by there have been races and other events on Spy Pond but of late years these have passed into pleasant memories. The night before the holiday was very quiet, probably on account of the rain and the old custom of cutting up and making disturbances on the eve of the holiday having been entirely done away with.

This is a condition to be congratulated upon, but why some sort of an appropriate celebration of the day should not be made is probably from the fact that no number of citizens or organizations have given the matter sufficient thought to bring about such an observance of this important date in American history. Would not this matter be well to be considered by our Arlington Board of Trade another year? The Advocate will assure the Board of its hearty co-operation in having a celebration fitting to the day and this historic town.

PATROLMAN LOPEZ HAS A LIVELY SCRIMMAGE WITH A CALF

Patrolman Felix Lopez made a great find on Monday. A few minutes after however, he felt that he was "out of luck" as the saying goes, for his find proved to be lively as well as stubborn. Lopez discovered a calf on Mass. avenue near Robbins road and he proceeded to pace a rope around its neck in order to get it off the street. The animal was full of pep and did not relish the fact that he was being arrested. Lopez started for the box factory of Luke Monroe nearby to tie the calf up. It was a hot day and it was hard on both the policeman and the calf as both wanted to go in opposite directions. Finally in desperation Lopez got the calf on his back and carried him to the box factory where the animal was tied up. Later it was learned that Augustus Young of Lexington had dropped the calf out of his wagon, while passing through Arlington.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS IN CAMP

Elisabeth S. Taylor, ex-secretary of the Camp Fire Girls in New England, is very busy in their camp just opened near West Mansfield. Though obliged to hasten preparations they have opened with nearly a hundred girls housed in tents, and everything going smoothly. Quite a number have come from the Cape, and from Cambridge and Arlington. The camp is thoroughly equipped with instructors, and guardians and everything needful to a first class camp for Camp Fire Girls. Many already wish to remain beyond the allotted time.

This attempt to serve the girls, not only during the year, in groups in the towns, but in a first class camp at cost during the summer for ten weeks, shows how fully this organization is devoted to the young girls of our land. More than one hundred thousand are gathered throughout the land as Camp Fire Girls and not a few of them go into camps, from Maine to California.

POLICE NEWS

Saturday evening the police made two raids for stills and contraband liquor. Chief Urquhart, with officers Belyea, Carroll and Donovan, visited the premises of John Kane, 209 Lake street, and secured a still, five gallons of "hootch" and fifty gallons of mash. The same officers visited the premises of Joseph Pertimber, 24 Tufts street, and secured three gallons of liquor and five gallons of mash. In both places the outfits and liquor were confiscated and taken to the police station.

Salvador Carlinio, the Italian resident of West Medford, who was so badly beaten on last Sunday evening while on North Union street, died at the Symmes Arlington Hospital Friday night from his injuries. Carlinio remained unconscious all the time. After his death, Medical Examiner Dow made an examination and found that Carlinio's skull had been fractured in three places. Immediately on receipt of the news of Carlinio's death, Dominic and Salvador Mesiti of 75 Dacur street, and John Barbarello of Freemont street, were re-arrested and charged with manslaughter. It is alleged that these three gave the dead man the beating which resulted in his death. On Wednesday the evidence in the case was presented to the Grand Jury by Lieut. Hooley and this body will act relative to finding an indictment. So far as the police are able to learn, there was an argument Sunday evening and Carlinio was a by-stander and was hit during the general melee that followed the opening of the fight.

Last Friday afternoon James Rowley of 54 Deatur street, who operates a truck for the Arlington Wet Wash Company, reported to the police that when he was driving his truck down Mass. avenue, near Walnut street, it was in collision with a bicycle ridden by William Long of 23 Oakland avenue, Arlington Heights. The boy's wheel struck the auto truck about midway. Long was thrown to the street and received a bad shaking up. He was taken to the office of Dr. Guy E. Sanger and later taken to his home.

Myron Hanover of 136 North street, Somerville, reported to the police on last Friday evening that while he was out on the Mystic Valley boulevard with his police dog, the animal was struck by an automobile and several of his front teeth were knocked out. The police are investigating the matter.

JARDINE-ELLSWORTH WEDDING

A simple but charming home wedding took place Friday evening, June 30, when Miss Ruth Ellsworth, daughter of Mr. John Emerson Ellsworth was married at the home of her father in Peterborough, N. H., to Mr. Wilton Scott Jardine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Jardine of 155 Forest street, Arlington Heights. Roses were used in decorating the rooms, the living room where the wedding took place being made most attractive with pink rambler roses. The ceremony, which was the double ring, was performed by Rev. Mr. Eldridge, pastor of the Peterborough, N. H. Congregational church, and witnessed by the immediate families of the couple and a few intimate friends.

The bride, who was unattended, was gowned in white satin charmeuse and wore no veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held at which refreshments were served.

The bride is a graduate of Peterborough, N. H. High school, and attended a Commercial College in Boston at which time she resided in Brookline. The groom is well known in Arlington. He is a graduate of Arlington High school and was prominent in athletics during his school career. He was manager of the hockey team and a member of the track team. He is also a graduate of University of Maine, and a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity of that college. During the World War he served two years overseas with the 26th Division, 101st Engineers. He is a member of the W. S. Jardine & Sons Co., tile contractors of the Heights; his father being a popular member of the Business Men's Association.

The young couple left, amidst the good wishes of their friends and showers of confetti, on a two weeks' wedding trip in Maine. After September first, they will reside at their home on Edmonds road, Arlington Heights, where an attractive bungalow is in process of construction.

GOLD PRIZE WON BY EDITH POOLE

In connection with the Music Memory Contest held in the Arlington schools a few weeks ago, Miss Peirce, the musical instructor, offered a prize of five dollars in gold to the boy or girl drawing the largest and the best original illustrations, representing the themes used in the contest.

This prize was won by Edith Poole of the Centre Junior High school, whose drawings were said by the judges to show a great deal of talent.

MARY F. SCANLAN MEMORIAL

There will be a meeting of the twenty-five citizens who have been selected to organize for the purpose of holding a memorial service to the late Mary F. Scanlan, the beloved principal of Crosby school, and to help secure the funds necessary for a permanent memorial to Miss Scanlan. This meeting will be held in Crosby school next Tuesday, July 11th, at eight o'clock.

All who have been invited to serve on this committee are urged to be present to formulate plans. Already there have been received generous sums from citizens, and any who may care to contribute, be it a large or a small donation, may leave the same with town treasurer, Charles A. Hardy or with Mrs. Herbert F. Allen of Lake street, also Mr. A. P. J. Philpott the secretary.

Miss Scanlan's services as a teacher in the schools of Arlington for forty-nine years, cannot be too highly honored. It is a privilege the mothers and fathers of children who came under Miss Scanlan's care, to show their appreciation by giving generously to this project, so that it will be a fitting memorial to this splendid woman who died in the harness.

FORMER ARLINGTON MAN DROWNED IN TOWNSEND

Friends in Arlington were shocked to learn of the accident, Sunday, which resulted in the drowning of John R. Jones of Townsend, a former resident of East Arlington. Mr. Jones, with two other men, was bathing in the Squanook river when he went out beyond his depth and was carried down the river by the current. Neither Mr. Jones nor his two friends were able to swim, and before any assistance could reach him he was drowned. The body was recovered in twenty minutes from the time of the drowning. The heartfelt sympathy of the community is given to the members of his family in this sad time.

Mr. Jones was born in Hydeville, Vt., the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Jones. At one time he was a student at Mt. Herman School, North Adams, Mass. Eight years ago he married Florence S. Ganong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ganong of 73 Henderson street, Arlington. Mr. Jones resided in Arlington for a number of years prior to making his home in Townsend. He was well known in East Arlington and was active in the Trinity Baptist church and its Christian Endeavor Society. He was a member of Mt. Hiram Lodge 101, Order of Masons, West Rutland, Vt., and held the office of Overseer in the Townsend Grange, P. of H.

Besides his father and wife, Mr. Jones is survived by three children, John R. Jr., Earl Allison and Dana Charles Jones; two brothers and three sisters of Ira, Vt. On July 4, services were held at his home in Townsend by the Grange. Wednesday, July 5, at two o'clock, funeral services were held in Trinity Baptist church, Rev. A. E. Kenyon, minister of the church, officiating. The pall bearers were six brothers-in-law of the deceased, Edmund L. Connors, John Hilson, Charles Farrow, Warren Caswell, Charles Ganong, Allison Ganong. Mrs. W. A. Corcoran rendered several selections in a sympathetic manner, bringing comfort to the bereaved family.

The love and esteem in which he was held by friends was evidenced by the numerous beautiful floral offerings which were banked about the casket. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

THE BELL SYSTEM'S REAL ESTATE HOLDINGS

To one whose first impression of New York is obtained from a view of the irregular horizon of its downtown district, the city may well appear to be an unending succession of office buildings. From the Battery well up to the midtown district towering piles of masonry greet the eyes. By hundreds they are thrust upward against the skyline, a veritable forest of granite and steel.

Take these office buildings, group them into a single city, construct 400 additional buildings, and the result would correctly represent the number of buildings owned by the Bell Telephone System. Ranging from twenty-seven stories down to one story, from the headquarters of the system in New York down to storehouses and garages, these buildings constitute the largest investment of the system, with the single exception of that which is represented by plant directly used in providing telephone service.

These 1,600 buildings represent a total value of $144,000,000, an investment three times as large as it was a decade ago, which affords convincing proof of the fact that a majority of them are of modern construction.

ROMANCE ON THE TRAIL

Cyrus E. Dallin, our distinguished townsman, and his family, four in number, left Arlington on Thursday, June 22, for Utah in an auto over the Lincoln highway. This is not so unusual in these days when people even cross the Continent in large numbers in the machine. Yet in 1851, Mr. Dallin's father as a young man, and his mother as a young girl, crossed the Plains bound for Utah in a covered wagon—a Prairie Schooner. There was no other way in those early days to go far west. The gold excitement had just broken out over the discovery of gold in California and thousands of gold hunters joined or made up the parties who crossed the Continent in this primitive way.

While the Dallin party only went as far as Utah, the paradise of the Mormons, though they were not Mormons, they experienced all the thrills of schooner travelling on dry land. Along the way young Dallin would leave a message, a love message, at the camp site and a few days afterwards his young sweetheart would find it. Thus she heard from her lover every day, but he had to wait until they arrived in that beautiful valley of Salt Lake.

Since seventy-one years ago the railroad across the Continent has been built, several of them indeed—and now the auto-road invites the wanderlust people to speed over the plains and the mountains almost as swiftly as the steam drawn train. Surely the world does move, whether the sun does or doesn't!

One object of the Dallins in crossing over to Utah by auto is to stop at the camping places as far as possible, of his father and mother in 1851. In this way he picks up the romance of nearly three-quarters of a century ago, and thus romance lays hold of him. We often throw out of life as a lemon squeezed dry the family romance, but our distinguished townsman shows the better way.

Unquestionably they will have a splendid, perhaps thrilling journey, and join together the old and the new by that chord which swept by the hand of masters "trembling passes in music out of sight."

POLICE RECORDS PROVE PROHIBITION PROHIBITS
Is a Boon and Blessing

Theories regarding the practical benefit of prohibition have been boiled down into sober, hard facts by Elizabeth Tilton, chairman of the committee to investigate results of prohibition for the Family Welfare Society of Boston, in the current number of the World's Work. The writer proved her points by tables of statistics that show that even during the serious period of unemployment in 1920-21, conditions were much better among families than in a similar period in 1914-15.

Fewer families cared for by public charities, fewer delinquent children in the juvenile courts, fewer deaths from alcoholism, fewer suicides and fewer cases of non-support to place the burden of supporting the family upon the commonwealth, and increased deposits in savings banks, those are a few of the instances that the writer quotes, with a pen dripping with authority. "The material I shall use has all been drawn from Massachusetts," so the writer states, "a state that was not dry before prohibition and one that has not, at the present writing 'come in out of the wet' by passing a state prohibition code in harmony with the federal law. The state courts and state officials therefore have not been added completely to the forces in operation in support of the prohibition amendment."

"For a comparison I have chosen two similar periods—the periods of business depression in 1914-15 and 1920-21. The latter depression is much the worse of the two as can be simply demonstrated by two typical percentages. In December, 1915, 8.6 per cent of the organized wage-earners covered by the returns were unemployed, in December, 1921, 27.3 per cent. Arrests of course can not all be attributed to alcohol, but everyone will admit that alcohol has always had a bearing on them. It is interesting to note therefore, that arrests for the entire state of Massachusetts were 15 per cent less during the serious depression of 1921 than during the less serious depression of 1915. That refers to arrests for every offence."

"Let us turn from general arrests to those specifically related to our subject—that is, to arrests for drunkenness. Here the arrests for the state totalled 106,146 in 1915 and 59,585 in 1921, a decrease of 43 per cent."

While arrests on all charges decreased 15 per cent, arrests for drunkenness decreased 48 per cent. The reason for this great increase in arrests may only be answered by guess. But it is not reasonable to suppose that it was caused in part at least, by the fact that something had happened to liquor that had not happened in 1915? In short, prohibition had struck down the open traffic and the saloon. Liquor had become somewhat harder to get and much more expensive. That there was still much liquor abroad is evidenced by the number of drunks left. But a reform that in its early, struggling stage in a period when it must make war on an organized, illicit traffic, cuts arrests nearly in half, is not a total failure nor a complete farce. Some, at least, have come in out of the wet."

Regarding the deductions made from reports of various welfare societies, the writer goes on to say: "The Boston Family Welfare Society, formerly the Boston Associated Charities, reports that during 1915-16 in 26 per cent of the cases that came to its attention, drink was a factor, while in seven months during 1921, but 2.05 per cent had any connection with drink. This shows a decrease of 90 per cent of cases in which drink figures."

Again, the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children shows that out of a study made of 144 families, 167 children had to be removed in 1916, while in 1921 only 16 had to be removed from their homes—a decrease of 90 per cent.

In Cambridge, the Family Welfare Union reports drink as a factor in 24 per cent of its cases and but 1 per cent in 1921.

The Washingtonian Home, an institution that receives alcoholics "tapering off," from all over the eastern portion of Massachusetts, shows a decrease of 27 per cent between 1915 and 1921 in the number admitted.

In the case of deaths from alcoholism, the state figures for 1921 are not available, so in this instance I shall use the figures for the city of Boston. Deaths from alcoholism in 1915 numbered 109; in 1921 that figure had been cut to 69—a decrease of 35 per cent.

Taking juvenile delinquency we find the following story. Here I am giving the whole table, for any one with imagination can see in it what a home does for a child. Note here how the peak was reached during the war years when the fathers were away and the mothers were in the factories. See the trouble return to normal when the father and mother went into the home again and stayed there.

Decrease in 1921 over 1915, 9.2 per cent. (The Boston figures are given rather than state figures, by advice of Herbert Parsons, commissioner of probation, as courts for children have long been established in Boston. This is not true of the state.)

In indoor and outdoor relief given by the state department of public welfare we have again a matter in which drink plays a part, but how great a part cannot be accurately gauged by the figures given out. But in this department we find the same curious phenomenon—less relief given, even though unemployment is greater.

In cases of non-support, both those placed in institutions and those placed on probation show a decrease—the aggregate decrease being 18 per cent.

We come now to the realm of vital statistics—to diseases in which alcohol is granted to be a predisposing cause. In cirrhosis of the liver (deaths) the decrease is 47 per cent; Bright's disease (deaths), 9 per cent; pneumonia (lobar), (deaths), 61 per cent; tuberculosis (deaths), 23 per cent.

Coming to suicides we find a decrease of 8 per cent.

Lastly we come to the number of deposit accounts in savings banks between the two economic depressions. Remembering that in 1921 the percentage of unemployment was larger than in 1915, it is remarkable to report that there were, in 1921, 239,239 more savings account deposits than in the milder depression of 1915—an increase of 9 per cent."

STATE OFFERS NEW COURSES BY MAIL

Radio owners in Massachusetts may soon receive expert instruction by mail, according to an announcement made June 30 by James A. Moyer, director of the State division of University Extension, Mass. Dept. of Education. Because of the popularity of the university extension radio class organized this spring in the Mass. Institute of Technology buildings, the division of university extension, has prepared a correspondence course covering the same ground, and open to any resident of Massachusetts. The lessons will be non-technical and no previous knowledge of the subject will be required on the part of students applying for the course.

For convenience, the work of the course will be divided into two parts, the first dealing with the handling and construction of simple radio apparatus, and the second dealing with the principles of electricity involved in radio operation. The first few lesson papers will discuss and define the fundamental principles in radio transmission. The conditions necessary to successful receiving will be outlined, and directions will be given as to how a person may construct an inexpensive set for short range work. In the second part the course takes up in detail the characteristic waves and circuits upon which radio transmission is based. It will also include a discussion of various improved types of apparatus, such as the Armstrong regenerator.

The State University Extension course in gasoline automobiles has also been arranged for the use of correspondence students. For several years this course has been offered to large classes in Boston and other Massachusetts cities. It is designed not for the use of professional automobile mechanics and garagemen, but for the man who owns and operates his own car. It includes a thorough non-technical discussion of the ordinary types of construction and mechanism, with emphasis on the engine, and starting and lighting equipment. A textbook, specially written for the course and illustrated with photographs and diagram of automobile parts, is supplemented by a series of ten lesson pamphlets. A feature of the course is its discussion of engine troubles, their preventions and cures, and common road repairs.

The addition of these courses to the correspondence list of the division of university extension will make them available even in towns and villages where there is not a sufficiently large demand to warrant the formation of a class, and it is expected that several hundred radio enthusiasts and car owners will send their applications for enrollment to the university extension office at the State House, Boston, within the next few months.

IS GOVERNMENT COMPETENT

A strike is industrial war, first a threat, and then a blow. Unquestionably collective bargaining has done good and the individual laborer counts now in the settlement of labor disputes. But the individual through the leader has now become the dictator. It is unfortunate that it should be so, because by following dictates of these leaders, the unions have largely lost the confidence of the public.

Corporations are not without blame, often ignoring or overriding the just claims of their employees; but sooner or later they become law abiding, while labor unions resent legal obligations. Recently the U. S. Supreme Court has decided they are responsible in law for their action; yet the decision does not go far enough. In some way strikes and lockouts should be outlawed.

If government is worth anything, it should protect the mass of the people from tyranny, whether on the part of the corporation or the labor union. Now, whenever the troubled sea of labor begins to settle down to quietness, and prices begin to follow suit, some dispute arises between labor and corporation, and up goes everything. The consumers who are without a voice, are expected to pay without asking any questions. They often are not allowed to stamp on the alarm button, but are ordered to throw up their hands.

This state of things cannot go on indefinitely, or the public will rebel or expire. Somehow both labor and corporations must be made aware that the masses are most vitally concerned in this dispute and for that matter in all disputes not strictly private. Through this costly and often brutal disagreement, may we not speedily come to the way of peace and goodwill.

ALLEN A CANDIDATE

The backing and filling of the past month or more, noticeable in the metropolitan press, indicated to us a careful campaigning rather more than a spontaneous call for Attorney-General Allen to be the Republican candidate for Governor in the primaries to be held early next fall, spoken of when last week definite announcement of such candidacy was made. It has been a tradition with almost the binding force of a law with the Republican party, that faithful, efficient and generally satisfactory service in high stations receive the reward of at least nomination for another term. There is an element of danger in breaking tradition even in things that are not large; in the political arena it generally proves more than impolitic.

The service Mr. Allen has rendered the state in his important office is recognized and highly appreciated by citizens without distinction of party. The duties of his office have been performed faithfully, with the development of signal ability, coupled with keen discernment. To a certain degree, his office has made history.

But has not Governor Cox, in his office, equally made good in every respect? There has been no opportunity for the spectacular and the unusual in the broader field of state affairs, but efficiency and economy have been signally shown along all material lines, and on occasion he has shown himself to be a man with the courage of his convictions. Judged by any standard, Gov. Cox is as worthy of the reward of a re-nomination at the hands of the Republicans of the state as have any of those preceding him in that high office. He is to have a rival, and to that rivalry there is no legal bar; any one may aspire to that honor. We trust that the primary canvas will be so carried on that when election day arrives, the party the two men represent will go to the polls as a solid phalanx.

NON-PARTISAN TARIFF

There cannot be such a thing as a non-partisan tariff in the United States. This is because there are in this country two schools of thought which differ fundamentally and radically as to the proper functions and scope of a tariff. First, a school which believes tariff should be written merely for the purpose of providing revenue; second, a school which believes that in addition to providing revenue, tariff should be used as a medium for protecting American industries and keeping out destructive foreign competition. There is and can be no middle ground between these two positions. There is and can be no compromise between free trade and protection. A tariff is either a protective tariff or it is not. The Democratic party has been traditionally the party for tariff for revenue only—that is, free trade. The Republican party has been the party which has always stood for a tariff which furnished both revenue to the government and protection to American industries and American products.

The agitation of so-called non-partisan tariff organizations is backed by free trade interests. There is nothing unusual about this. It has always been so. All so-called non-partisan tariff movements have always been projected and carried on by those who believed in free trade. These alleged non-partisan tariff organizations and individuals of organizations who are in favor of postponing the enactment of a protective tariff at present, would be just as ardently in favor of postponing its enactment a year from now or two years from now, or at any future time. In brief, all such persons and organizations are against a protective tariff at any time.

The American working man and the American farmer in common with the American manufacturer and the American business man should face the fact that a non-partisan tariff is an economic impossibility. They should refuse to let others deceive them into believing to the contrary. They should no longer deceive themselves if they have been misled into such belief. The people of the United States must decide which they wish—a tariff written for the purpose of protecting American industries and those who are employed in the industries or whether they wish a tariff written for the purpose of inviting a flood of foreign-made goods into this country.

The national board of control over transportation lines in this country, has outlawed, so far as appeals to it are concerned, the six labor unions that went on strike July 1, against the ruling of this board.

The weather on Tuesday was a great disappointment to communities in this section planning for a celebration of Independence Day and thousands who had arranged for outings. Somerville and Wakefield carried through a large portion of their programs in spite of occasional slight rainfalls, but as everywhere else, the "wet blanket" had a depressing influence that robbed the day of that which is best. The Boston program, divided as it was into many sections in various locations, was not as seriously interfered with as elsewhere.

The Farm Bureaus of New England are taking an active part in the big fight to secure the passage of the Voigt Bill, which would forbid the interstate traffic in "oiled" milk. This bill has passed the house by an overwhelming majority and is now before the Senate. Oiled milk is milk from which the butterfat has been removed and coconut oil or some other cheap vegetable oil substituted. It has much less food value than milk but is sold to many consumers who are led to believe that it is real milk in a cheap form. The Voigt Bill has the backing of health organizations and woman's clubs as well as the agricultural interests. Through the efforts of the Farm Bureaus, the Senators from all the New England states have been urged to support this bill, which would effectually put a ban on this bogus milk.

The massacre of Herrin, Ill., is an alarm bell ringing in the night. The warning it gives should be heeded. It is a natural and legitimate result of what has been allowed to go on unchecked in this country. We heartily agree with the Boston Herald that prior to conferring with Mr. Lewis, President Harding should have announced that murder must cease; that those who desired to operate their properties should be protected; that those who desired to work should be protected; that those who were guilty of the Illinois murders must be punished, and that no conference could take place with the leaders of the United Mine Workers until they had at least shown a willingness to obey the law; but Mr. Harding has evidently thought otherwise. President Cleveland halted a threatened railroad strike and in so doing expressed the will of the American people.

From progress recently noted, the contractor will accomplish the tearing down of the buildings facing Milk street and fronting on Federal and Congress streets in Boston within the forty days named in the contract. This removal of these several big buildings is to make a place for the proposed five million dollar home for the Chamber of Commerce. Plans for this immense structure were approved some time ago and material for its construction is being prepared in several locations.

With an almost unanimous condemnation of the direct primary by newspapermen, as the vehicle by which men and women come to be candidates for political offices, people wonder why Congress and state legislatures seem to be fully satisfied with it. Is the answer to be found in the men who have come into official positions by this means; that they are numerous and sufficiently active to be able to thwart any plan to better the situation?

Chats with Your Gas Man

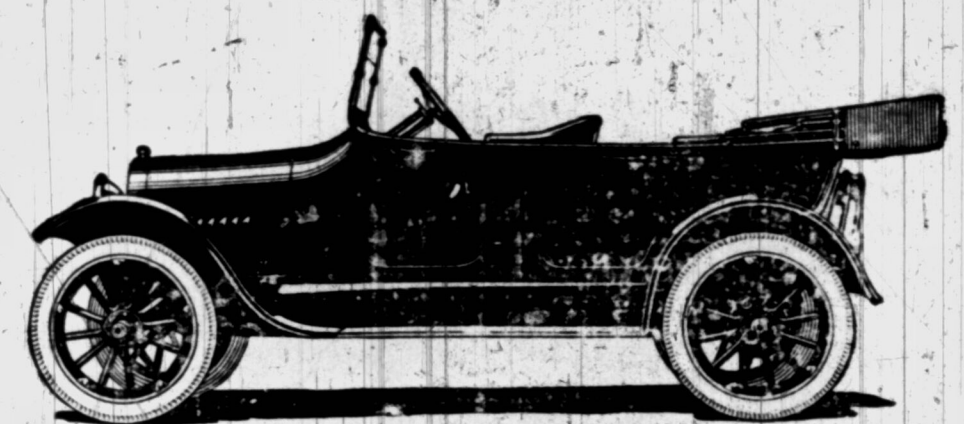

All the money of the millionaire of sixty years ago could not buy the workingman's comforts of today. In less than a century, our whole manner of living has been changed.

Distance, for example, has been annihilated. The telephone and telegraph have placed the whole world within easy reach. And right in the heart of the home, ready at the instant touch of a lever or button, helping to conserve the strength and health of an entire nation, are those willing and obedient servants—gas and electric service.

Of all the industries, these, the public utilities, are the most democratic. The widowed washer-woman is supplied with the same gas as the banker's wife; likewise, electricity is delivered to the mansion or the cottage; all fares look alike to the street car conductor; and the telephone operator responds with equal celerity to the voice of the clergyman or the boot-black.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jardine of 155 Forest street, with their daughter, Miss Helen, and son, George, went to Peterborough, N. H., Friday morning to attend the wedding of their son, Mr. Wilton Scott Jardine to Miss Ruth Ellsworth of Peterborough.

—Miss Edith Byram, who returned Wednesday from Bozmann, Mont., where she has been teaching in Montana State College, was taken ill and operated on for appendicitis Monday at Symmes Arlington Hospital. This Geyser usually plays at night and for only one hour at intervals of from six to fourteen days. At the same time a convention of two thousand Shriners from the west and southeast were meeting that week which added to the interest of the trip. At Duluth Mrs. Byram and Miss Edith took a steamer for Buffalo and there visited Niagara Falls.

—Tuesday evening, the holiday was celebrated in an impromptu but most enjoyable manner, when the C. Herbert Hicks entertained at their home, 210 Park avenue, the William C. Drouets, the W. H. Bronsons and Miss Avelita Howe of Marlboro, Mr. Benjamin Hickey, Mr. Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Bent, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Stott and son, John, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross of the centre. The dining room was prettily decorated with a color scheme of yellow and blue, blue dishes and blue runners, and yellow margarites, for flowers, and yellow candles. Salads, sandwiches, apple sauce, currants, ice cream and ginger ale were served. But the most popular corner of the dining room was the small table where Mrs. Fred Ross passed out hot buttered rolls, which disappeared along the line of waiting men like magic. The evening was spent in dancing, a feature being the Virginia reel, with Mr. Fred Ross at the piano. A pretty incident was the gift from those present to Mr. and Mrs. Drouet of the picture done in water colors by Mr. C. H. Richert, of the view of the Drouet house from his studio. It is quite a large picture, showing a part of the house with its lovely surroundings of trees and shrubbery. The

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

Most of the Sunday school picnics this year have been postponed or held under disagreeable weather conditions but Church of Our Saviour was favored with a lovely day on Saturday, July 1, the day of their annual Sunday school picnic. Two truck loads of merry picnickers left the church at eight thirty in the morning and a third left at ten for Mother's Rest, Revere Beach, where the picnic was held.

More than one hundred and forty parishioners attended. Sports in charge of Mrs. Elmer Lewis were held during the day. The baseball game was won by the Sunday school team captained by George Swetson from the Sunday school team captained by Robert Friery. The potato race for the girls was won by Anna Stanley and for the boys by John Stanley. Evelyn Friery and Beatrice Hamilton were awarded the prize for the three-legged race. The fat ladies' race was won by Mrs. Stanley. George Swetson won first prize in broad and high jumping and Ralph West, first prize in running high jump.

Those attending carried basket lunches which were eaten on the beach. Hot tea, coffee and ice cream were served without charge to all. Everyone agreed that it had been a most enjoyable and successful affair. Many of the young people took in the amusements at the beach.

The rector, Rev. Warren N. Bixby, spent the day in looking after the happiness and welfare of the little ones as well as many of the older members of his parish. He made numerous trips between Arlington and Revere in his car, bringing the children to and from the beach. Several owners of private cars also were generous in transporting different families.

The picnic committee included Mr. Bixby and Mr. Ralph Kinsman. The management committee was Mrs. Elmer Lewis, chairman; Miss Carrie Hutchinson, Miss Grace Rideout, Mrs. Alice Orde. The ticket committee, Miss Edith Hutchinson, chairman; Mrs. Luther Watson, Mrs. Childs.

Mrs. Percy Morine was chairman of the committee for soliciting funds, with Mrs. Joseph Winchester, Mrs. Sorenson, Miss Marion Mishraill and Miss Leile Hutchinson assisting. Through its efficient and splendid efforts the expense of the picnic were covered.

gift was in appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. Drouet's splendid efforts to establish a community and neighborhood spirit, when for years on different holidays they have opened their home for old and young of the community. Mr. S. E. Stott made the presentation speech and the Drouets responded, voicing their delight at the gift.

GERTRUDE F. FREDERICK
DECEASED

Gertrude F. Frederick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Finley of 9 Grove street, Arlington, passed away Monday, July 3rd, at the home of her parents after weeks of invalidism. Mrs. Frederick went through a serious operation last November and from this she never rallied, although all medical aid possible was brought to bear upon the case to bring relief and help.

Mrs. Frederick was graduated from Arlington High school and has always resided in the town, having been born here forty-three years ago. For a number of years she was bookkeeper for William Murray (now deceased), but a well known resident of the Heights district. Later she was employed in the Boston market district, being greatly valued by her employer.

Eighteen years ago the seventeenth of June, she married Mr. Henry Frederick who is now employed at the Senior High school. There were two children from this union, one a little girl who died several years ago, and a son, Elwyn, aged now four years. The deceased has always been active in the Ida F. Butler Lodge of Rebekahs. She was financial secretary for a while of the lodge, also chaplain and in 1915 was the Noble Grand. She has always been identified with the Arlington Heights Baptist church, having joined that denomination when only eleven years of age.

The funeral was held Wednesday in the chapel of the First Baptist church, the devotional services being conducted by Rev. R. J. Davis of the Arlington Heights Baptist church. The music was by members of the Ida F. Butler Lodge of Rebekahs. At the conclusion of this service the full ritual service of the Rebekah Lodge was gone through with. The flowers were in great profusion and very beautiful. The interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery and at the grave the committal service was read by the officers of the lodge.

Besides the husband and son and parents, the deceased is survived by two sisters and two brothers. They are Mrs. Charles D. Warner of Arlington, Mrs. Eva McKinnon of Prince Edwards Island, Mr. Charles Finley of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mr. William A. Finley of 10 Grove street, Arlington.

—That is a splendid granolithic sidewalk that the Five Cents Savings Bank has had put down in front of its building.

—The work of building Daniels street has begun and when completed the residents of that street will feel deeply grateful. Just at present reaching their houses is something of a handicap.

—Miss Mary Plaisted, who has been a physical teaching in Binghamton, N. Y., arrived home Friday night of last week. She came over the road, a distance of over three hundred miles, in one day.

—Hundreds of our townspeople enjoyed the three day's holiday this week, leaving on Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning for various places of amusement or into the country and remaining until over the fourth.

—Automobile traffic was exceptionally heavy through the center of the town on Sunday, keeping the traffic officers busy in regulating the traffic and thus avoiding many accidents which naturally would have resulted but for their efficient work.

—Miss Dorothy Dewing, who was operated upon last week for appendicitis at Symmes Arlington Hospital, is making rapid strides toward recovery. As soon as Miss Dewing is able the family will go to Hyannis, Mass., for the summer. Miss Dewing is a junior at Wellesley.

—Supt. George E. Ahern of the Public Works Department has a big gang of men at work rebuilding that new section of Gloucester street between Mount Vernon street and Highland avenue. The constant rains have handicapped the men, the water filling in the ditches every day and making it necessary to use pumps.

—Mr. Arthur Prescott, the older son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Prescott of Russell street, has been in Arlington several times of late. Mr. Prescott is the president of the Ogden Steel & Iron Company with works in Bayonne, N. J., and office in New York. Mr. Prescott is here in the interest of the company, which is doing work on the East Boston Ferry.

—Four young people have thus far been chosen from the Orthodox Congregational church to attend the Conference at Northfield. They are Miss Bernice Dodge and Miss Marguerite Rich to the Religious Education Conference which meets between July 21 and 29. Richard Bird and Bruce Haire will go to the Mass. Christian Endeavor Institute between August 14 and 21. It is planned to send six delegates in all.

—Miss Inez W. Zeecher left via Portland for Camp Accomac, Hillside, Me., on Thursday last. She is to be one of the instructors of a large group of girls mostly from New York and Philadelphia. Last year she so completely measured up to the requirement that they gladly persuaded her to join them again this summer. She will be away till September.

—Rev. Mr. Taylor supplied the Union church in Saylesville, R. I., last Sunday. Rev. David Crockett of the Heights is now pastor of this church, and is off on his wedding trip. On July 16, Mr. Taylor preaches at Leicester, near Worcester, and August 13 at Revere. He expects to be around all summer. Since they want him climb mountains, he undertakes to spend his vacation at home, agreeably to the gods.

—If plans now being made do not miscarry, this town will be able to witness one of the greatest water carnivals ever held in the state. The Arlington Lodge of Elks and the Middlesex Sportsman's Association will probably combine in this event. The plans are to hold the carnival the latter part of September all through the week. The carnival will be held on Spy Pond which sheet of water offers wonderful opportunities for an affair of this kind. More will be said later, the preliminary plans now being made.

—If one had been at the North Station last Friday morning, when the train pulled out for Lakeport, N. H., they might of thought that only Arlington boys were going to Camp Amoset, owned by Mr. Thomas E. Freeman of Highland avenue, a former principal of Crosby school. Among the boys assembled were ten from Arlington. They were Charles and Wescott Atwood, Robert Bucknam, Phillip Peirce, Morton Bradley, Robert Webb, Kenneth Draper, John Marsh, Winthrop Barnard and his brother.

—Last Friday evening Miss Marguerita Hughes, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Hughes, was tendered a surprise party in honor of her 16th birthday, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Norberg on Magnolia street. The young lady entertained about thirty of her friends and each presented her with a handsome gift in honor of the occasion. The house was decorated with red, white and blue, in recognition of Independence Day, cut flowers being intermingled with the flags. The evening was passed in a general good time, which included instrumental numbers and singing. A collation was served, the dining room being attractively set for the party.

—For the third time in four years the County Poultry Club championship comes to Arlington, this year being won by Richard J. Davis, older son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davis of Wellington street. Davis is president of the Middlesex County Achievement Club and a former prize winner both in the garden and potato club work in the county. Davis won highest honors in poultry. He is sixteen years old and has always shown unusual interest in the garden work. He is spending the summer at Fruitacre, at Gleasondale, Mass., and enjoying his work on this large fruit farm. Richard Noyes has been the winner of the poultry prize in past years.

CHAMPIONSHIP SETTLED

The championship in the Inter-scholastic League of High school players in this section was decided last week when the Stoneham and Reading nines met on the field in Stoneham and this team secured an 8 to 7 victory in an eight-inning game, rain preventing the playing of the ninth.

This game, the third in succession to settle the title, was advertised to be put on at the Athletic Field at Lexington and a large crowd gathered there, only to be finally told that by agreement between the two teams, Stoneham field had been substituted. Prior to the contest, the two teams had triumphed one over the other, necessitating this third inning. The score:—

LEXINGTON K. C. NINE WINS

The strong nine of the Lexington Council, No. 94, Knights of Columbus, won a thrilling game from the Newton American Legion team, 5 to 2, on the Lexington Athletic Field, last Sunday afternoon, before a large crowd.

Both teams scored in the opening frame, and Newton took the lead by a run in the third, and held it until the eighth, when Kendrick, on the mound for the visiting outfit, weakened. Rycroft smashed out a triple, bringing in the tying run, after which three more counts were made before the smoke cleared away.

Lexington worked two pretty double plays during the contest, which was hard-fought throughout. W. Shannahan led with the stick for the home team, with three hits out of four trips to the platter, and he and Rycroft and Heavey, starred for the home team.

R. Kelley was the most prominent player for the Newton nine, and his hits scored both of the visiting runs. In all he made three clouts out of four times at bat, one a triple, another a two sacker, and the third a single. The score:—

—Beginning July 1 the street light were turned on all night. This is in accordance with the vote passed at the annual town meeting in March. This week those who were out after one in the morning greatly appreciated the lights, because of late the nights have been extra dark.

—"The night before the Fourth" has been robbed of all its terrors. Quiet and good order prevailed everywhere. Church bells were rung in Arlington at morning, noon and evening and the national emblem was quite generally displayed. There was no other observance of the day locally.

—John P. Cadagan of Summer street, pitched the Medford A. A. team to victory on Sunday afternoon at a game played in Medford. Cadagan allowed but five hits and pitched a very good game. He is a member of the local twilight team and plays shortstop on this team. At pitching he excels and has made a good showing in all the games in which he worked on the mound.

—Mr. William Gratto, inspector of buildings, gives the following reports for June: Dwelling houses, one family, 9, value $52,100; dwelling houses, two family, 13, value, $111,100; additions and alterations, two, value $3000; garages, 22, value, $14,055; blocks of stores, 2, value, $47,500; porches, 1, value, $1000. —Tuesday an automobile operated by Joseph Kanuski of 341 Windsor street, Cambridge, was in collision at the junction of Mass. avenue and Brattle street, with a wagon driven by Walter Nickerson. Nickerson was thrown off the seat to the ground and was taken to the office of Dr. Guy E. Sanger where his bruises and cuts were treated, after which he was able to go home. The horse was uninjured and the occupants of the automobile also escaped injury.

—Mr. Arthur E. Robinson, director of Manual Arts at the Senior High school and a delegate to the National Education Association meeting in Boston, wishes to thank the people of Arlington who have so generously supplied accommodations for the visiting teachers. One hundred and fifty teachers have been housed in this town. Miss Flora E. Fuller, principal of the Locke school, is a deputy delegate and with Mr. Robinson, represents the Arlington teachers at the association.

—The Swan residence on Pleasant street, is looking especially handsome in its new coat of paint in the pale buff and white trimmings, and green blinds. This is one of the few estates on Pleasant street that has not passed out of the hands of its original family. Mr. George Swan, the owner of the property, was a school teacher in Charlestown, but came to reside in Arlington over fifty years ago and built the house still standing. Two of his sons, Mr. G. Arthur Swan and Mr. Charles H. Swan now occupy the house.

—Thursday morning, about one o'clock, Patrolman McLeod discovered a man acting suspiciously at the filling station owned by George A. Winn at the corner of Mystic and Summer streets. The man saw the policeman about the same time and started away. Patrolman McLeod gave chase, but the man soon got out of sight. Headquarters was notified and Patrolman Carroll was rushed out in the department machine to help try and locate the man. After some time the hunt was abandoned. It was learned that an attempt had been made to pry one of the windows with a jimmy, the imprint being plain on the window sill.

—Mrs. Carlina Egitti had a narrow escape from serious injury late Monday night when a bullet crashed through her bedroom window, passing within a few inches of her head and lodging in a mirror across the room, smashing the glass to fragments. Two shots were heard by neighbors, but trace of only one bullet could be found. Mrs. Egitti had retired for the night and plainly heard the zing of the bullet as it went past her. The family was thrown into a high state of excitement over the affair. The police were notified and interviewed a number in that section, some of whom did not hear any shots and others who heard two shots. It is thought that some young man got hold of a revolver and started to celebrate by discharging it, not having any intent of doing bodily harm.

—Announcement was made this week of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Marie Sheridan to Mr. Joseph Francis Deignan of Watertown, the same being made at a commencement tea given at Hotel Victoria, Boston, at which Miss Mae Eleanor Sheridan was the hostess. Miss Sheridan, who is known to her many friends as "Betty," is the daughter of the late Thomas F. Sheridan, who was a well known building contractor in Albany, New York, a cousin of the late General Philip Sheridan. She was graduated with honors at Albany Academy of Notre Dame in 1918 and since then has been making her home with her brother, William J. Sheridan of Arlington. A fortnight ago, the degree of LL.B. was conferred upon Miss Sheridan by Boston University. She is a director of the Kappa Beta Pi, a legal frat at Boston University Law school. Miss Sheridan is vice-president of the New England Federation of College Catholic Clubs and treasurer of St. Cecilia's College Club.

—A large number of our citizens went to Dilboy Field, Somerville, to witness the display of fireworks. They were unusually fine.

—Rev. Frederic Gill, D. D., will be the preacher at a union service in the Orthodox Congregational church on Pleasant street, next Sunday morning at 10.30. The First Parish, Congregational and Universalist churches form the union. At the service last Sunday, Rev. Don Ivan Patch, who was the preacher, in announcing this meeting, said that attendance at these services was a test of the sincerity of those who so often speak about the desirability of more united and cordial co-operation.

—Rev. S. C. Bushnell, writing to order change in address for the Advocate to Madison, Conn., the summer home of the family, adds the comforting comment in regard to the weather:—"But Noah lived to see the sun shine and so shall we." Also the following story:—

"Adam was walking with his two little boys, Cain and Abel, outside of the garden of Eden. Coming to the gate he told them to look in and then remarked—"Boys, that's where mother ate us out of house and home."

—Tuesday Patrolman McLeod stopped a runaway horse in the center of the town, but not before he was dragged some distance by the frightened animal. The horse dashed up Broadway, riderless and with bridle and saddle on. McLeod caught the horse and held on, being dragged for some distance. Finally he got the horse quieted down. Communication was made with Somerville where it was learned that the horse had escaped from the militia men who were parading in that city. Later the horse was turned over to a member of the militia who came here for the animal.

BASEBALL NOTES

Arlton-Sacramento Tigers

The rain on the holiday put a stop to the baseball game scheduled for the town team. In the afternoon the team intended to play Woburn town team but the field had been given to another set of players who played here in the afternoon. One team was designated as the Arlton A. A. and the opposing team was the Sacramento Tigers. The game was won by the Arlton team, eleven to three. Landon who started to pitch for the Tigers blew up in the third inning and seven runs were scored as a result. Kerr took his place and did a good job, holding the Arlton team down to one run. The field was wet and not fit for a ball game and made the conditions very hard for the players on both teams. The summary:

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E
Sacram 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 3 6 2

Batteries—Sampson, Beaulieu and Carpenter; Landon, Kerr and A. Griffen.

Somerville Post, American Legion vs. Arlington Town Team

The Somerville Post, American Legion, baseball team took the measure of the Arlington Town Team on Monday evening on Spy Pond Field, defeating the home team very easily, eight to one. The game was played in the last half of the ninth inning. Somerville having tallied five runs in this frame but these not being counted on account of the game being called before the even innings were completed. This reverted the game back to the eighth inning and to the score at that time. The Somerville team got to Haley of the local team in the first innings. Haley scored the first two runs himself passing two men when there were three men on bases and forcing in the runs.

In the second inning Haley was responsible for two more runs, a wild throw to the home plate, over the catcher's head, letting in two more runs. Errors on the part of the Arlington team worked against them and came at times that were critical and resulted in runs being scored on that account. The game was snappy at times and there were some plays that put the spectators on edge. The Arlington first baseman showed that his great length was to his advantage and saved many wild throws during the game.

Somerville was captured by one of our townsmen, "Jigg" Donahue, former catcher for the Braves. His work behind the bat was of the very best. His team played well and were able to hit the ball freely and for eight good safe hits. The summary:

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E
Somerville 2 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 8 2

Batteries—Wickerson and Donahue; Haley and Doherty.

He speaks fluently in the English language and is addressing various organizations in this country in the interest of international justice, good-will and peace. The Boston Herald recently said of him, "He is a live wire with a magazine of facts and figures at his disposal."

Dr. Hsieh gives his services, but he is helping three Chinese students through college here in America, and has asked for a voluntary contribution toward their support. A silver offering will therefore be received for this purpose. Please understand that this is entirely voluntary. You may give little or much or nothing at all—just as you desire—but by all means come and hear Dr. Hsieh. You will go away instructed and inspired. Seldom will you have an opportunity to hear so able a speaker.

LEXINGTON COMMUNITY SERVICES

The usual Patriotic Service in Lexington was held last Sunday, July 2nd, at the Hancock Congregational church. The co-operating churches in these summer services are the Hancock Congregational, the First Parish, the Follen, the Church of Our Redeemer and the First Baptist church.

This was the first in a series of neighborhood services to be held during July and August and the first Sunday in September. The day was fair and despite the fact that many were away over the holiday, a large audience greeted the speaker of the day, Rev. J. H. Jenner, pastor of the First Baptist church. The service was in charge of Rev. C. W. Collier of the Hancock church, while the scripture lesson was read by Rev. Carleton P. Mills of the Church of Our Redeemer.

Mr. Jenner spoke appropriately on a patriotic theme tracing the development of our great country and the real fundamental principles on which our greatness rests. He urged for more stress on deeper spiritual values and a keener sense of our responsibility for the success of weaker nations. He particularly pled for Armenia in her weakness and distress. God has led us to our high position that we may serve the world and be the big brother among the nations.

The music was unusually fine and greatly enjoyed by all. The chorus was made up of thirteen voices from the First Parish, Hancock and the First Baptist churches. The organist was Mr. A. B. Allison and the director, Mr. Clarence E. Briggs. The musical program was as follows: "Prayer of Thanksgiving," by Krenser; "Song of Liberty," by Mrs. Beach; tenor and baritone duet, "God of the Nations," "What of the Night O' Watchman," by Thompson.

AUTHORESS OBSERVES THE ANNIVERSARY OF HER BIRTH

Mrs. Sarah Pratt McLean Greene of 8 Glen road, Lexington, well known as an author, last Monday, quietly observed the 66th anniversary of her birth. Mrs. Greene, who has written many books, is enjoying her usual health, and is often seen about town in her automobile. Miss Agnes H. Roop, who is a member of the bar, but who does not practice law, lives with Mrs. Greene, as a companion.

Mrs. Greene was born in Simsbury, Conn., on July 3, 1856, the daughter of Dudley Weston and Mary (Payne) McLean. She received an academy education at Mount Holyoke, Mass. She was married on July 27, 1887, to Franklin Lynde Greene, who has since died.

Among the better known of Mrs. Greene's books are "Cape Cod Folks," which she wrote in 1881; "Some Other Folks," 1882; "Tow Head," 1883; "Vestry of the Basins," 1892; "Flood Tide," 1901; "Deacon Lysander," 1904, and "Power Lot," 1903. Mrs. Greene has contributed numerous short stories in Harper's Magazine, etc.

LEXINGTON LOCALS

John E. Hannigan of this town has conveyed to the Alpha Phi Sigma Club title to the frame house and 6500 feet of land, numbered 471 Broadway, Cambridge. This property is valued by the assessors at $10,000. After alterations the club intends to occupy the estate for its permanent home. The brokers in the sale were Benjamin P. Ellis and Edward A. Andrews.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. John Lind of Greenfield Farm, Middle street, this town, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alva Elizabeth Lind, to St. Joseph Rogers, son of Mrs. Jennie Rogers of 35 Trapelo road, Belmont. During the late war, Mr. Rogers served overseas 18 months as a sergeant in the 101st Supply Train, 26th (Yankee) Division. He is now in the wool business in Boston, being associated with the firm of Joseph H. Wheelock and Company, 158 Summer street, Boston. No date has been given out for the wedding.

The following item clipped from the Boston Herald the past week will no doubt be read with interest by residents of this town:—"Richard O. Engstrom, who sold his estate at 19 Slocumb road, Lexington, to Charles Ponzi for $39,000, may keep the money legally and will not have to turn it back to the Ponzi trustees and have the estate returned to him, according to a decision today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The circuit court reverses the decision of the district court, which ruled that the property was sold to Ponzi when he was insolvent. In its decision, the circuit court declares that Engstrom had no way of knowing that Ponzi was insolvent and sold the estate in good faith, as he would have sold it to any other common purchaser. It finds also that there was no mutual misunderstanding of the contract."

James Theodore Brewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin Brewer of 140 Winthrop street, Brooklyn, New York, was recently appointed a midshipman in the United States navy and left June 19th to enter the "plebe" class at Annapolis. The lad, who is only 16 years old, has completed three years at Manual Training High school, Brooklyn, where he has stood high scholastically and been prominent in athletics. He was captain of the soccer team, pitcher on the baseball team, president of the Junior Arista and secretary and treasurer of the Senior Arista. All examinations to the Naval Academy were passed with honors. "Jim" Brewer's father was formerly a resident of Lexington before moving to Brooklyn in business, about twenty years ago.

The annual field day of the Lexington Council, No. 94, Knights of Columbus, will be held on the Lexington Athletic Field, Saturday afternoon, July 15. One of the features of the afternoon will be a game between the Lexington nine and the Maynard town team, to which the local outfit lost on Independence Day, at Maynard, in a thrilling ten-inning battle, 8 to 7. Many from this town went to Maynard to attend the game and the big Legion field day there.

Lexington tied the score in the fifth, when it made three runs. There was no more scoring until the tenth, when Lexington made two runs. Maynard, however, came back strong in its half of the extra frame and tallied three times, winning the contest. Lexington made no less than 15 hits off the delivery of Morrill, who worked for Maynard. The score by innings:

Maynard 0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 11 4
Lexington 2 0 0 0 3 0 0 0 2 5 15 4

Batteries—Morrill and Morgah; McDonald and Lynah.

The Lexington Teachers' Club, the Lexington Historical Society and the citizens generally are doing much toward entertaining the teachers attending the National Education Association convention in Boston, this week, when they come to Lexington to view the many historical points of interest. Residents of the town well versed in the history of the town are located on the battle green to welcome the teachers when they arrive, and direct them to the various interesting objects. A neat leaflet has been printed for the convenience of the teachers, telling among other things how to reach Lexington. It states that there are rest rooms with no admission to teachers during convention week at the High school and Buckman Tavern. Many teachers are visiting and showing much interest in the school exhibition at the High school building, demonstrating project work of the Lexington schools. On one side of the leaflet is a map of Lexington, with the many historical and other points of interest marked. It is announced on the leaflet that Lexington is now formulating plans for its observance of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary in 1925 of the battle of Lexington, with an historic pageant of a magnitude comparable with any given in this country. The leaflet signed by the Lexington Historical Society asks that, as the anniversary of this great day in American history approaches, that teachers make a special effort to emphasize the story of Lexington and her Minute Men to their most receptive audience—the school children of America.

ST. JAMES THEATRE

The management of the St. James Theatre has a faculty of picking entertainment to suit the season. This coming week Walter Perkins is to revive another good old comedy, "The Man from Mexico," an ideal hot weather play, a play that requires very little study, but produces abundance of laughter. It is just a comedy, however, gets into a violent plot on a platter. The plot deals with the predicament of a respectable New York citizen called Fitzhugh, who prevailed upon by his friend, Colonel Frederick Major, to visit the Cleopatra, a resort which the police have had the intention of raiding at the earliest opportunity. Mrs. Fitzhugh gets word of her husband's intended visit to a violent resort and, unable to endure the pangs of jealousy while remaining at home, pretends to go on a visit to her mother, but in reality follows Fitzhugh.

As luck would have it the place is raided by the police that very evening after the husband has left, the wife being gathered in by the police and released on bail. In order to suppress the disgrace of his sentence, Fitzhugh pleads for a parole of three hours, which is granted him. This enables him to return home to tell his wife that he has been sent to Mexico on important business, and the leave to serve his sentence under an assumed name. While Fitzhugh is on the island, his wife, as a member of the Federal Mission Committee, visits the prison, where the husband, who is supposed to be in Mexico, is obliged to meekly submit to seeing his better half inside in the arms of a girl with the jolly warden. Fitzhugh, having completed the term of his sentence, returns home in the last act, and much farcical fun is evolved from his misadventures, to give an account of his sojourn in Mexico.
